RECREATION NOTES.

As anticipated, the water polo match between the Field Battery, H.K.V.C., and the Garrison was the best of the season. It brought together a large crowd of spectators, and judging from the broad smile on the face of the V.R.C. toward the night's receipts must have been very satisfactory. The Volunteers had the advantage of the wind and water in the first half, and made the most of it. They made few mistakes, but once or twice in the open were beaten by the soldiers, who only wanted a little more judgment in front of goal to add to their score. There was not much to choose between the teams. Both swam fast, but it was in their capacity to finish that they excelled the representatives of the Garrison. Armstrong and Lapsley seemed to me to be out of condition, and found the pace warm. They are not seen so often as one could wish at the V.R.C. now. What has come over other once enthusiastic polo players—J. Leyen, H. A. Lamont, A. Humphreys, and others? Have they given up the game?

The Kowloon Bowling Green Club manages to keep up a high pitch of enthusiasm. Last Sunday, the Club held a competition for spoons presented by the ladies. There was a large turn-out of players and spectators, and the result of some interesting matches was that spoons were won by Messrs J. Graham, J. Sibbitt, A. Mackenzie, C. F. Eucken, J. D. Auld, J. Galt, E. C. Wilks, O. Alexander, J. Henderson, and S. H. Hobson. At the close, the spoons were presented to the winners by Mrs. Jack. The Club's new Green is nearing completion, and should be ready for play in two or three months from now.

The competition for the Vice-President's prize has reached the third round. Eyes are given to Messrs J. Ransay, R. Henderson, A. Mackenzie, C. F. Eucken, and W. C. Jeck. The following is the draw for the round—

A. Ritchie v. J. Wilkie.
J. Stewart v. T. Skinner.
J. D. Auld v. G. P. Lamont.

The gentlemen who play bowls and the gentlemen who look on at the gentlemen who play bowls will be interested in this paragraph.—Of recent years there has been a marked revival of the ancient game of bowls, and nowhere in the country more than in London. Three new bowling greens have been added to those already in its neighbourhood—now nearly two dozen—one at Camberwell, another at Hford, and the third at Mueswell-Hill. Probably the best patronised is that of Clissold Park, which is spoken of in the highest terms. Though there are some very ardent players, few would care to emulate the feat of one chronicled in the Gentlemen's Magazine. Here is the extract:—On August 4, 1730, a farmer of Clissold undertook for a considerable wage to bowl a bowl from that town to London Bridge in 600 times, and performed it in 445.

The English County Cricket championship is entering an interesting stage. So far as we know from the results that have been reached in the County, the record stands as below:—
